Registration: 3:30–4:00 pm
First Session: 4:00–5:15 pm
Second Session: 5:45–7:00 pm

Ramps and Pathways:

Science Inquiry for Young Children

Peggy Ashbrook

(Preschool Science Teacher and author of Science Is Simple)

Learn how to help young children investigate and explore the science concepts of force and motion with on-going activities involving ramps and balls. Please note that this workshop will run from 4:00–7:00, with one short break.

Splatter, Dab, Splash:

Developmentally Appropriate Art Activities for ALL Children

Victoria Walchak

(Art Specialist, Patrick Henry Elementary School, ACPS)

Expand your repertoire of appropriate art activities and explore strategies that support imaginative and inclusive learning through the visual arts.

Hear This!

Nancy Hutzell

(Early childhood special educator who works in the Auditory-Oral Preschool Program for the Deaf and Hearing Impaired, Camelot Center, Fairfax County)

Learn how to use specific songs and music to help young children develop language, listening, and speech skills in this interactive workshop.

It All Adds Up

Success With Math Every Day

Jeanne Porter and Grace Lawson

(Early Childhood Special Education Teachers, Freedom Hill Elementary School, Fairfax County)

Learn ideas for active math circles and activities, using Every Day in Pre-K Math from the Every Day Counts Curriculum.

Workshops for Parents

*Provided through the Anne Lipnick Parent Support Fund

Families: We All Have Special Needs

Brocklin Qualls

(President and CEO of Early Childhood Management and Training, Inc.)

What is life like for parents raising children with special needs? This workshop will provide some enlightening answers for professionals and give parents of children with special needs a deeper understanding of their unique challenges and how to meet them. There will be a special focus on male involvement with children with special needs.

Let's Play Together! / ¡Juguemos juntos!

Denise Santiago and Ursula Rocha

(Math Coach, ACPS and Psychologist, Mount Vernon Community School, ACPS)

This workshop will provide parents with the tools and ideas to have enjoyable and engaging activities at home. Through play, children learn and discover about the world around them. Please note that the first session will be presented in Spanish and the second in English.

Este taller proporcionará a los padres las herramientas e ideas para tener actividades entretenidas y atractivas en la casa. A través del juego, los niños aprenden y descubren el mundo a su alrededor. Tome en cuenta que la primera sesión se presentará en español y en Inglés para la segunda.

* The Anne Lipnick Parent Support Fund offers increased opportunities for parents in our area to attend workshops and conferences that will provide them with the resources to meet the extraordinary challenges they face. Please contact Mónica Sanjur at 703-706-4552 or monica.sanjur@acps.k12.va.us by October 1, 2010 for information on possible scholarship opportunities for parents.

Children Together, Inc. is a non-profit, 501(c)(3), Alexandria based organization committed to increasing opportunities for young children with and without disabilities to participate in early childhood experiences together.
